Spencer, of Missourt, one of the 39 Republican senators who signed Senator Lodge's religion of the senator of Republican senators who signed Senator Lodge's religion. ation declaring the proposed covenan its present form, said on his arrival her from Washington he was "heart and soul in favor of a league of nations, and believed such a league of nations, and believed such a league is certain to be formed and did not see how any one could oppose such a league. He said certain amendments to the proposed covenant can be made. One of the amendments he proposes is a definite recognition of the powers of the United States constitution and another is that our traditional supremary of things American must be recognized. This, he said, means mainly the Monroe doctrine.

Removal of Censorship on Commercial Cables to Neutral Countries in Europe Will Be First Step Taken

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

The News Scimitar's Special Correspondent. WASHINGTON, March 11.—First steps toward raising the blockade against Germany and Austria, which has been effective broughout the war, will be taken by the United States and Great Britain, when all censorship of commercial messages to and from the neutral countries contiguous to the central powers

Business men who have liftherto cept credit paper. This meant that been unable to communicate freely with the Scandinivian countries or those in Southern Europe because the British government, by controlling the Capitles, established stringent rules established stringent rules about possible trading with the enemy, will now find that normal conditions will prevail with respect to those neutral countries. In return, the Unitd States government has agreed to ift all restrictions on messag 3 coming rom Great Britain or France or Italy to firms in Central or South America, us having hitherto been in the hands of the American censors and sought prevent trade from being carried on with German subjects in this hem-isphere now the black list will be narlid will be off with respect to all other business houses on this continent, business houses on this centinent.

Similarly American business men will be able to re-establish export and import relations with firms throughout surope. This means that there will be practically no way to interrupt a possible resumption of trade with Germany through the neutral countries which, hitherto have been prevented from transferring securities to and from German firms for overseas trade.

The removal of the censorship and the relaxation of the blockade is in ine with the developments of the last few days at Paris and Spa, where the armistice negotiations with the Germans over the supply of food to the Teuton population have been conducted. The settlement announced vesterday whereby Germany is to get food provided she furnished merchant ships to carry American troops home is the climax of a long pariey in Paris, which would permit gold to flow out of Germany to any other country but herself. It was not difficult to get the French to agree to the proposal of the British and Americans that in exchange for two million tons of shipping, the Germans should be given 200,000 tons of food per month.

Dangers Foreseen. No objection was raised at the time on sentimental grounds. It was generally recognized that Germany must be fed to prevent hunger and unemployment from growing into dangerous anarchy which might overthrow the German government and remove all chances for an early start on the payment of the indemnity. But just as soon as the method by which Germany was to pay for her food arose for discussion the French insisted that all Germany's financial resources must be kept intact to pay France and that America and Great Britain should ac-

COBLENZ, March 11. (By the Asso-clated Press.)—The Forty-second Amer-ican division (Rainbow), First division of the army of occupation to start for home, will begin entraining for Ant-werp on April 1. Orders to this ef-fect have been received from head-marters.

appropriation for the benefit of Germany.

So the French endeavored to force upon the Germans the surrender of her merchant shipping without any agreement or guarantee that they would be given food in return. The Germans naturally objected and the Americans and British felt sympathetic with the agreement advanced by the Germans at Spa, namely, that Germany would go to pieces unless she had food.

Marshal Foel, by virtue of his panis.

with the agreement advanced by the Germans at Spa, namely, that Germany would go to pieces unless she had food.

Marshal Foch, by virtue of his pseition as commander-in-chief of the allied army, has taken a vigorous hand in the proceedings and it is known that the Americans and British delegates came away with the feeling that they could accomplish more if the military point of view and method of handling the situation were dispensed with for the present. Not only was the conduct of the armsitee proceedings then put, in the hands of civilian delegates from the entente countries, but now the meeting blace has shifted to Brussels which will be much easier of access and Marshal Foch will not attend the next session.

While all this may give the impression of serious dissension, the truth that the incident is but one of a number of natural differences of opinion that arise at the Paris peace conference when respective national desires of the allies conflict. The politicians of France are so much obsessed with the data of collecting a big gold nayment from Germany as indemnity that they are not taking into consideration the possible damage to the German financial and credit structure upon which a restoration of normal conditions in Central Europe most depends.

The Americans and British are trying to convince the French that any insistence on appropriating most of the German gold supply to themselves would only work to the disadvantage of French people in the end, for, if the extraction of a large sum of money crippled Germany's opportunities to establish credit relations with the Scandinanvian countries and the outside world generally, anarchy would surely ensue and the practical necessity which is bound to be of as much ultimate advantage to France as all other members of the entente allies who believe that Bolshevism is now the common enemy of the world. The reported shift in the French point of view in favor of feeding Germany as announced today from Paris, was therefore in favor of feeding Germany as announced and menacing friction. Common coun-sel and open appeals such as made by Premier Lloyd George in bringing to bear the sentiment of British troops occupying parts of Germany who in-sisted that the Germans should be fed are significant of the new international intercourse.

BRIG.-GEN. JOHNSON QUITS ARMY SERVICE

WASHINGTON, March 11.—After 20 years' service in the United States army, Brig.-Gen. Hugh L. Johnson has resigned. At the outbreak of the war, Gen. Johnson, then a captain, was assigned to duty with Provest Marshal Gen. Crowder, and to him was credited to a large measure the successful working out of the regulations for the first draft. Later Gen. Johnson was promoted to his present rank and detailed as representative of the war department with the war industries board. When the armistice was signed, Gen. Johnson was aboard ship ready to depart for France with a brigade. Since his return to civil life, Gen. Johnson has become associated with Chairman George N. Peek, of the industrial board of the department of commerce.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Half a dozen women fainted, as many others were overcome by smoke, and these, with nearly 255 men and women employes of the Morrison hotel were aided down fire escapes early today when fire broke out livra five-story brick annex to the hotel which is used as a dormitory for the employes of the hotel.

There were 1,000 guests in the hotel of which number about 500 on the Clark street side, closest to the fire, left the building.

The report that two maids were missing led to a search of the burned annex as soon as firemen could enter the structure. No bodies were found and the report was thought to have originated by several employes leaving the cene after the fire had been brought under control. The damage was estimated at $50,000. CHICAGO HOTEL BLAZE REMOVE BARS ON EXPORT OFFICE OUTFITTERS. LICENSES TO COLONIES
